

Job Vacancy Posted February 2008

Petrel Application Support

Start Date: ASAP

Location: Holland and India

Job Description:

GTS Geotech are currently seeking to recruit two Petrel Application Support Specialists, one to be based in Holland, the other in India. Both positions will be based in a major oil company where you will work as part of a support team.

Petrel Support Specialist

Roles/Responsibilities

Help improve client workflow processes, particularly around static modeling
Perform troubleshooting of client's Petrel application issues. Own such issues until escalated or resolved and ensure issues are resolved to client's satisfaction.

Assist with data links to other tools (e.g. Open Spirit)

Develop and promote best practices

Provide mentoring for client's team on a usage of Petrel

liaise with global Petrel development project leads and the global Petrel Support team

Background/Experience:

Desired: 3+ years of Petrel support/modeling experience

Technical Competencies:

Understanding of Exploration and Production technologies, workflows and dataflows

Ability to match technical solutions to customer's business needs

Excellent analytical and problem solving skills

Thorough knowledge of static modeling in Petrel

Good Data Management skills with Petrel

Please include your current salary details when responding. Email your CV and cover letter to tim.shepherd@gts-geotech.com

You will need to be already authorized to work in the EU or be an existing GTS Geotech employee.

GTS Geotech offers a competitive salary depending on experience, benefits package, including non-contributory pension scheme and private health and travel insurance, relocation assistance may be available if required.